Rocket To Moon Possible

Defense Department Officials Believe It Could Be Done With Missiles on Hand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A rocket could be sent to the moon this year, using existing missiles, in the opinion of Defense Department officials.

This was one facet of space information which came out of an official Pentagon briefing.

Newsmen learned that using the Air Force's intermediate-range ballistic missile, together with other existing rockets as additional stages, "a payload could be sent to the moon this year."

The payload would include transmitters for sending data back to earth in flight and a spotter charge to mark the rocket's impact on the moon.

However, the Defense Department has not issued any order yet for the Air Force to undertake such a project.

Dr. John P. Hagen, head of the Vanguard satellite project, has told Congress it may be time in about a year to try to fire a rocket to the moon.

Testimony he gave the House Armed Services Committee earlier this week indicated that Hagen thinks existing rocket engines could be used for such a shot.

He said an attempt to send instruments to the moon, without interfering with the drive to perfect intermediate-range missile weapons, might be made "when either the Thor or the Jupiter gets to a production phase, where they begin to have a backlog of missiles."

"I believe it is true," Hagen said, "that these vehicles are supposed to be available in quantity toward the end of this calendar year."

Secretary of the Air Force James Douglas also has said rocket engines already in existence apparently have the potential, if used together, to carry a vehicle beyond the moon.

In the Pentagon briefing on space age weapons, some of which are in existence, others under development, newsmen learned from prepared statements and answers by Defense Department officials that:

A single Polaris missile submarine will be able to vaporize inland targets with over 100 million tons of nuclear force carried in more than 10 hydrogen-headed intermediate range ballistic missiles. The first atomic submarine equipped to fire the Polaris is being built; others are planned.

Plans are being drawn for firing 1,500-mile-range IRBMs from far-ranging, high-flying planes, possibly driven by atom power or chemicals. This weapon system will succeed Hound Dog, the super-sonic missile launched from a B52 which can hit with "pinpoint accuracy for many hundreds of miles." But it may be as much as five years before the plane-IRBM combination is ready.

Charges FCC Probers Subjected to Threats

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Bernard Schwartz, counsel for a House subcommittee investigating the Federal Communications Commission, charged today that threats and "smeared" have been used in an effort to sidetrack the inquiry.

Schwartz said the chairman of the special subcommittee, Rep. Moulder (D-Mo) told him several times last month that Moulder "was being threatened—in an attempt to coerce him into abandoning this investigation."

He added the state probably would hire a Kentucky lawyer to represent Hopkins.

The governor said he had conferred with Col. Hugh H. Wagner, superintendent of the patrol, and Atty. Gen. John C. Dalton, about the case.

"Under our own investigations," he added "we're convinced the officer didn't kill the girl. He was attempting to do his duty."

Countdown Chuckle

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—There's a story going around here about a drunk who walked past the Washington Monument and saw smoke curling from its foundation—it came from a small fire in the basement. "I'll bet you ten to one," he told the guard, "that you'll never get it off the ground."

Requests Idleness Solution

Missouri's Governor Asks Eisenhower For Immediate Steps

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Missouri's Gov. James T. Blair asked the Eisenhower administration today to do something to help dispel the "ominous clouds of unemployment that are gathering in Missouri," as they are elsewhere in the nation.

In a telegram to Eisenhower, the Democratic Missouri governor said he hoped that "the note of optimism which you expressed recently in predicting an upturn in the economy by mid-summer bears fruit."

"But in the meantime," Blair said, "I believe that immediate steps should be taken to curb what could grow into a major economic disaster."

"Widespread unemployment constitutes a problem which goes beyond the ability of the states to handle and which calls for forceful intervention by the federal government in order to avert tragedy."

Blair said he sent the telegram to Eisenhower and to Missouri's congressional delegation, some of whom already have suggested to the President ways by which the federal government could lessen the impact of a reported business recession.

"I most respectfully urge that you take prompt and expeditious action to relieve an already grave situation which may become catastrophic," the Missouri governor said to the President.

He reported that 64,000 are unemployed in the St. Louis metropolitan area and 34,000 more are out of work in the Kansas City area. Some 37,000 are "living largely on surplus food commodities obtained through the United States Department of Agriculture in six southeast Missouri counties."

Blair Says Legal Aid Is Intended For Patrolman

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair said today the state would provide legal aid for Vernon Hopkins, a Missouri Highway Patrol officer charged with voluntary manslaughter in the roadblock slaying of a woman near Paducah, Ky.

Hopkins was one of several Missouri troopers who were ordered into Kentucky to aid in the hunt for a kidnaper. The officer and Forrest McAlister, Fulton, Ky., civilian, were charged in the death of Miss Jewell English, 24, passenger in a car reported passing a roadblock during the manhunt.

"Missouri will see that this young man receives whatever is necessary to properly preserve all his rights," the governor said.

He added the state probably would hire a Kentucky lawyer to represent Hopkins.

The governor said he had conferred with Col. Hugh H. Wagner, superintendent of the patrol, and Atty. Gen. John C. Dalton, about the case.

"Under our own investigations," he added "we're convinced the officer didn't kill the girl. He was attempting to do his duty."

Fatalities of 100 Claimed

French Bomb, Strafe Little Tunisian Town

TUNIS, Feb. 8 (AP)—A town of Sakiet Sidi Youssef with a population of 2,000 was jammed with markers when the French planes roared over.

In the attacking force were 11 twin-engine U. S.-made B26 bombers, 6 U.S.-built Navy Corsair fighter-bombers and 8 French Mistral jet fighters, the Tunisians said.

A spokesman said most of the homes in the town and mining school a mile away were destroyed. The dead and injured still were being pulled from the ruins tonight.

Mustapha Fillali of the Tunisian Information Ministry said a class was under way in the mining school and all the students were killed.

The Tunisians said the local post office and the headquarters of the police and national guard in Sakiet Sidi Youssef were among the buildings destroyed.

The French said the Tunisians were warned of the likelihood of a reprisal raid. They said after a reconnaissance plane was damaged last night by anti-aircraft fire a French officer on the border informed the Tunisians across the frontier that any similar firings would result in a raid.

When another plane was damaged this morning and had to make a forced landing, the raid was ordered, they added.

The French claimed the raid destroyed half of an encampment of Algerian nationalists, wiped out two anti-aircraft gun emplacements and badly damaged another.

Merchants to Prosecute

Shoplifting Profession Hits Snag in New Plan

Sedalia business firms have been plagued with shoplifters in recent weeks, and has become so bothersome and costly to the merchants that steps of prosecution are to be taken. One firm, a grocery, reported losses running high as a result of shoplifters picking up items and sneaking out with them under their coats.

In the past many merchants have resorted to apprehending the thief, calling police, and giving the culprit a "break" after being questioned. It resulted in the return of the articles in some cases, the thief paying for the article in others, and no charges being pressed by the victimized merchant.

The exasperation of one of three merchants was felt by a shoplifter the past week, when he was charged with taking 35 cents worth of meat. The accused pleaded innocent to the charge but after a police court hearing was assessed a $25 fine.

Many of the Sedalia merchants have discussed the continually increasing problem and have decided to let the law take its course now instead of their personal feelings.

The majority of the merchants contacted have agreed to refuse to accept money from a thief who has stolen any item, whether it be worth 10 cents or $10 and to push prosecution in the courts.

In Sedalia alone the overall losses runs into hundreds of dollars a month, according to one merchant who said his would run as much as $35 a week. Other merchants reported that they have had considerable losses but would decline to comment on just what it would average out.

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors reported that after the police department's hands had been tied on prosecution because some merchants would accept payment for items stolen and then refuse to prosecute.

"My department will cooperate to the fullest in apprehending these thieves," he said. "I am glad a good number of merchants have decided to follow through with prosecution. That's about the only way we can stop this petit larceny."

"When a thief knows he or she, and there are a number of women who are just as bad as the men in this shoplifting racket, know that all they have to do is pull out their pocketbook and pay for the item to escape arrest and conviction, they will not stop. They'll just change shoplifting practices to some other store until caught."

"These thieves, if they know they will be prosecuted, fined and even given a jail sentence if caught, will give a second thought. I believe a good majority of these petty thieves will give a lot more thought about stealing if they know they might have to stay with us awhile in the city jail," he said.

Chief Neighbors also said, "We show no favoritism, regardless of whom they are or where they come from. However, we do need the help of the public to enforce the law, especially the merchants."

East Germany Boss Defeats Challengers

BERLIN, Feb. 8 (AP)—Walter Ulbricht beat off a challenge to his tough Stalinist rule in Communist East Germany today, firing three top lieutenants accused of liberalism.

Reports from East Berlin said the party boss might follow up with a ruthless nationwide purge to check growing opposition to his tough line in restive East Germany.

Booted out of the ruling hierarchy were: Karl Schirdewan, Ulbricht's longtime top deputy, who was expelled from the party Central Committee and the all-powerful politburo.

Fred Oelsen, the party's leading ideologist, who was thrown out of the politburo. It was not clear whether he will remain on the Central Committee.

Ernest Wollweber, until recently the secret police boss. He was fired from the Central Committee and accused of "criminal failure" in his police work.

The Kremlin apparently ignored the popular opposition to the bearded old party leader and threw its support behind the purge.

The East German Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland said the Central Committee decided unanimously on the purge in a secret meeting lasting from Monday to Thursday.

County Budget Is Less Than 1957 Request

Total Broken Down Into Six Classes, Is $461,858.08

The Pettis County Court has approved a 1958 county budget of $461,858.08, which is $67,148.50 less than was budgeted in 1957. County Clerk Jim Green said Saturday. The budget will cover all anticipated expenses of county affairs for the current calendar year, and was approved and signed by all three county judges.

The total is broken down into six classes, with a specified amount to be expended in each class. Copies of the budget, along with the entire breakdown by classes, are on file at the office of the county clerk, the state auditor's office, and at the Pettis County treasurer's office, Green said.

For care of the mentally sick, under Class I, the budget calls for the expenditure of $15,550; Class II, the expense of elections and for the maintenance of circuit court, was allotted $39,940; Class III expenses for construction and maintenance of county roads under the supervision of the county court, received $77,198.97; and Class IV, salaries and expenses of maintaining offices and equipment, received $139,420.71.

Class V, for the care and upkeep of county buildings and equipment, received $118,248.40. Class VI is a general fund to be used for other expenditures not covered by the first five classes, and $80,500 was allotted for this purpose. Green said the reduction in the overall budget was accounted for in a reduced request for Class VI funds since last year's request proved to be in excess of actual need.

Two Small Children Suffocate From Smoke In Kansas City Fire

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Two small children suffocated from smoke today while their mother screamed frantically, "My babies are in there. Get them out."

The mother, Mrs. Phyllis Goff, awoke with the smell of smoke and had gone to warn neighbors in the building.

When she returned, smoke was so thick she could not reach the children, Patricia Ann, 2, and Michael, 3.

Four firemen, spurred by her screams, vainly tried to reach the children.

"I guess I was within seven or eight feet of them once," said Capt. Andy Van Camp, "but you couldn't see anything in there."

Eight other families escaped without mishap.

Mrs. Goff is divorced from the children's father, Eugene Goff, who was summoned to the scene. He accompanied her to the hospital where she was taken for shock.

Leadership Is Changed In House Committee Of Foreign Affairs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A switch in the Democratic leadership of the important House Foreign Affairs Committee was made public today. The new committee head promptly pledged support of bipartisanship on foreign policy.

Rep. Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) said that because of ill health, he was bowing out of the active chairmanship in favor of Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.).

Morgan outlined what he termed his middle-of-the-road foreign policy views and said he aims for a nonpolitical committee approach on foreign affairs.

Annual Style Show, Card Party on Way

Convention Hall, Liberty Park, is buzzing with getting ready for one of Sedalia's social event always looked forward to in February—Beta Tau's annual style show and card party, which will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 12, starting at 8 p.m.

This is the seventh year and each year members of Beta Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, pick out a theme and build their style show around it. This year the theme is "Street of Dreams." The girls are busy building the street. There is sawing and hammering, there are suggestions wanted and unwanted, there are, perhaps, a few broken fingernails and maybe a few lost tempers, but it is certainly one year when the husbands of Beta Tau members get a little better acquainted.

The husbands will be called on to model men's fashions, too, and the children will do their part in the style show along with the Beta Tau members. What is new in fashions at the local stores will be shown effectively Wednesday night, with Mrs. Bettie Yates as narrator. There are 14 stores participating.

Committees are hard at work. Mrs. Mickey Joy is chairman of styles and staging, Mrs. Mary Seefelt of decorations, Mrs. Judy Clement of lighting, Mrs. Lucille King of refreshments, Mrs. Mary Pitcairn and Mrs. Beth Richardson publicity, Mrs. Mary Sawyer, tickets; table prizes, Mrs. Joan Brown; gifts, Mrs. Betty Hicks; and booth, Mrs. Rosemary Cummings.

There will be more than 100 card tables ready to play bridge or any kind of card game after the style show.

Every year Beta Tau selects a worthy cause and gives all of the proceeds to that fund. In the past they have given to the Heart Fund, Jennie Jaynes Stadium fund, Crippled Children's Center and the Cerebral Palsy fund. This year the money will go for the furnishing a room in the new wing of Bothwell Memorial Hospital.

At Methodist Church

Chain Store Council Gives Luncheon for 4-H Leaders

The annual luncheon for 4-H leaders of Pettis County given each year by the Sedalia Chain Store Council, was held Friday noon at the First Methodist Church.

Presiding at the luncheon was Harry S. Naugel, chairman, and invocation was given by the Rev. Elmer L. Hobbs, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

A welcome to all the 4-H training leaders was given by Naugel with the response by Carl Raines, who praised the Chamber of Commerce, the stores and the community as a whole in behalf of 4-H members.

Virgil Bork, Columbia, state representative for chain stores, addressed the group.

Burk told the 4-H leaders, "or you wouldn't be here. Boys and girls don't make many mistakes. They like you, and it is quite an honor to be working with them."

Burk went on to say there had been a tremendous shift in population which would continue. More and more people have been leaving the farms. The idea of decentralizing industry has caused an increase in population in some areas. In this state, he said, it was 18 per cent. Sedalia will probably hold its own in this shifting but rural people are going more and more to cities from the rural areas and then moving to suburbs so they will still experience rural life. This has an impact on retail stores, Burk said, and it is necessary for 563 new stores to be opened a month to keep up with the change.

From the rural areas come many of the outstanding leaders in the urban areas, because always from rural America come the best leaders, he said.

Naugel introduced the guests at the head table: Miss Charity Bye Shanks, state 4-H club agent, from Missouri University, Columbia; Miss Opal O'Brien, Pettis County home agent; Mrs. Lester Patrick, 4-H leader; Jack Faber, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce; and Owen Fox, associate county agent.

The Sedalia Chain and Associated Store managers giving the luncheon were: Ivan Caraway,

Club Or Community 4-H Achievement Days

Nearly everyone is interested in new and improved ways of doing things. Sometimes a new way to do a job, although it may not be better than the old, will add interest and because of this will produce better end results.

More and more, Pettis County 4-H Clubs are using club achievement days to add local interest and get more participation in their club programs. Although 4-H Club Achievement Days have been used for years by some clubs, many of the newer clubs haven't used them. Some clubs have similar events but call them parent nights.

How do 4-H Club Achievement Days help a 4-H Club? There are many ways to answer this question but here are some of the most important. First, 4-H club work is for boys and girls. They must be interested and club achievement days do give them additional interest. Opportunity is provided for club members to do those things they can best do and to receive individual recognition for their achievements.

Parents are proud of the achievements of their children, therefore, they become more interested in the club program and give it added support. Support is strengthened when the community as a whole becomes involved and takes more interest in club work. Community involvement in organizing and planning the 4-H club program is always desirable.

Club achievement days also give the community an opportunity to recognize the work of 4-H leaders and to show appreciation for what club work is contributing to community life.

Club achievement days may be held at two different times during the year. Some clubs have their achievement day during the summer before the county achievement day. The event then is usually a dress rehearsal of the club entries in county achievement day. It serves as a practice performance of all the events and shows the community what is being accomplished in 4-H work.

Some clubs hold the event at the close of their club year and use it as a "picture window" for their accomplishments. Both individual and group achievements are stressed. Usually some special planning is done to get public announcements and special invitations out so that the general public will attend. These events held in the fall stress recognition even more than those held in the summer.

Program content is similar for both the summer and fall club achievement days. Project exhibits, demonstrations, dress revue, grooming, and Junior leader speeches, are common to both. Individual and club awards including a display of ribbons won is usually a part of the fall program. Most clubs plan their club Achievement Day as one of the regular club meetings and hold it at night. There are some, however, that make it a day event in their community. The club's program planning committee usually plans the event and uses many special committees to make it successful. Special committees used may include those on arrangements and facilities, publicity, invitations, exhibits and refreshments.

Does your club need added interest and renewed life? Does it have the desirable community understanding and support? Does it tell the community of all the advantages of having a 4-H Club? Many 4-H clubs have proved that a Club Achievement Day can help do these things.

Library Notes

Religious Topics On Hand For Coming Lent Season

With the approach of Lent season the Regional Library calls attention to books in the field of religion available for use. Throughout the United States Catholic and Protestant clergymen are urging their congregations to spend some time in serious reading on religious topics in the weeks ahead.

To aid this effort the Religious Publishers Group annually publishes lists of recommended books. This year the Protestant Lenten reading list has been compiled by Dean James A. Pike whose own book, "The Next Day," makes admirable Lenten fare. The Catholic Lenten reading list has been selected by Jim Bishop, author of "The Day After Tomorrow."

Although the Regional Library does not have all the selections on this year's list, there are numerous other volumes from which the patron may make selections. These vary from the more scholarly material to the popular works of Fosdick, Peale or Sheen. Selections from such organizations as the Religious Book Club provide inspirational material. One highly recommended selection is Professor John Casteel's "Rediscovering Prayer," a frank, honest and helpful discussion on prayer that does away with the superficial and conventional comments found in many other such works.

For Catholic readers the books by Thomas Merton, such as "The Seven Storey Mountain" and "The Silent Life" or Alden Hatch's biography of Pope Pius XII, "Crown of Glory," should be popular. For short, informational and inspirational excerpts the book "A Treasury of Catholic Thinking" presents the philosophy and theology of 130 famous Catholics from St. Augustine to the present Pope.

Rush by Farmers for Sign-up Of Land Tops Expectations

OMAHA (AP)—The rush of farmers to turn their crop lands over to the government in a four-state soil bank experiment has exceeded expectations by a considerable degree.

In Nebraska the near-final totals showed one farmer in seven was ready to quit crop farming for a price. The farms compose some 2½ million acres or 11.2 per cent of the state's 21½ million acres of crop lands. Bids were put in on 15,737 of the state's 120,000 farming units. In Tennessee and Illinois about 7 per cent of the farmers put a price on temporary retirement from crop farming.

In Maine, where the deadline for entering sealed bids is Feb. 28, some 311 of the state's 23,368 farms were represented by bids by Feb. 4. But Lawrence Chatto of the University of Maine Department of Agriculture said there had been "a tremendous interest thus far," and he expected heavy bidding in the last 15 days of the period.

Tennessee had 15,563 full-farm bids, compared with a total of 203,000 farms and an anticipation of 10,000 to 12,000 bids.

In Illinois, which has about 240,000 farms, about 19,500 bids were received—nearly double the number expected. Officials estimated the bids applied to farms averaging 125 acres each, but had not established a total of cropland involved.

Dr. Everett E. Peterson, extension specialist in agricultural economics at the University of Nebraska, said the wave of full-farm bids might be attributed to discouragement over poor crops in years of drought and a wet harvest season capping the past abundant crop year, plus concern over the talk about lowering or abandoning price supports. Farmers nearing retirement age and seeking to slow down also were a factor, he added.

He added this highlights the problem of how individual rural communities can adjust with "the least amount of social and economic disturbance and human hardship." Some small towns may pass out of the picture altogether.

in the process, he predicted. There are several leavening factors: whether the bids will be acceptable as to price, the productivity of the land offered, its distribution over the state and the amount of money available for the program.

Babysitter Dies After Shot 6 Times In Head By Unknown Assailant
GARDENA, Calif., Feb. 8 (AP)—A 19-year-old girl, babysitting with her sister's children, was shot six times in the head by an unknown assailant last night and died 10 hours later in a hospital.
Bonnie Morton was found dying by her sister, Mrs. Jeanine Lyles, 27, on the kitchen floor of the home they shared. Mrs. Lyles' three children were sleeping in a bedroom.
Police said six bullets hit Miss Morton in the back of the head and that five apparently were fired as she lay on the floor. She was fully clothed. There was no evidence she had been sexually assaulted, police said.
Mrs. Lyles, whose husband is overseas with the Army, said she had left her sister with the children about 7:30 p. m. and returned at midnight. She told police her sister had no steady boy friends.
Investigators said the girl apparently knew her assailant and voluntarily admitted him to the house.

Rep. Curtis Declares Both Parties Should Quit Hurling Charges
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Rep. Thomas C. Curtis (R-Mo.) told Missouri Republicans today that congressional leaders of both parties should stop hurling "charge and counter-charge" in criticism of the defense program.
Curtis, the only Republican in Missouri's congressional delegation, told delegates to the annual Lincoln Day rally that both Democrats and Republicans have tacked on politics to national defense.
The congressman said some of the loudest critics of the defense program have thrown roadblocks into the administration's program to eliminate costly civilian activities in the military.
Curtis' remarks were delivered at a luncheon meeting of the Missouri Republican Veterans League, one of several GOP organizations meeting at the two-day convention which ends tonight. The attendance is several hundred, being held down by bad weather.

Rheumatic Fever Film Will Be Shown on TV Wednesday Evening
A half-hour film on rheumatic fever, entitled "The Heart Crippler," will be shown on KDRO-TV at 7 p. m. Wednesday. The time is being donated by the station.
The film, produced by the American Heart Association, which is conducting its nationwide Heart Fund campaign this month, deals with the cause of the disease, the care of its victims and the steps necessary to prevent it. It will have special value for parents, since the incidence of rheumatic fever is greater among children.
Chief cause of rheumatic fever is a streptococcus throat infection, the association reports. If such infection is diagnosed and treated early, rheumatic fever can be prevented. Otherwise, it can be a lifetime problem. The latest report from the state department of health is that rheumatic fever is on the increase in Missouri.

Peter Ustinov Is Serious About Comedy

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Peter Ustinov, one of Broadway's funniest stars, calls himself a very serious guy indeed.

"I just happen to have the gift of making people laugh," the poly-author-actor says.

"You can't—at least I can't, be properly funny unless the subject matter is quite serious."

Ustinov is currently jouncing, strutting and grimacing through "Romanoff and Juliet," a gay fable that introduces him in person to American audiences who previously have known Britain's "veteran boy wonder" only via his scripts.

Bearded Peter has also been cutting a lively swath on television, as a dramatic actor in an impressive play about Samuel Johnson, as an expert on quiz shows and a valuable guest star in other spots around the network.

His emphatic arrival, plus the success of "Romanoff and Juliet" doesn't surprise Ustinov, a man confident of his varied capabilities. (On occasion he also produces plays and writes novels).

"After all," said Ustinov, 35, "I've been writing plays for 17 years."

He does like to clear up several items in shop talk about the theater.

"I contradict comment that my play is an improvisation," he insists. "It is carefully constructed and it relies a great deal on audiences. Their participation is far more important than in most plays."

"It is easier to perform in a drama than in a comedy which is a badinage."

Ustinov rushes to the defense of comedy, which he feels has been "debased" in public esteem as a dramatic device that "sheds light on life or human behavior."

He also detests suggestions that he writes plays to give himself starring roles. Like Noel Coward he runs off a list of his creations that have succeeded quite well without him.

DIFFERENT: Dark-eyed Mildred Miller has found a profitable theatrical career by reversing the way things were in Shakespeare's day.

"Women never appeared on stage then and all their roles were Cleveland-born Miss Miller has over the past several years developed her specialty with the Metropolitan Opera, and this season portrays seven different youths. The mezzo soprano's specialty developed by accident.

"I was an eager beaver," she says of her adolescent years, "but someone else always got the role I wanted. As a result I didn't endanger the voice during those critical years."

More Praise, Less Calumny

Nothing is so swift as calumny; nothing is more easily uttered; nothing more widely dispersed, according to Cicero, Latin philosopher.

Calumny is defined as malicious misrepresentation or detraction. Certainly nothing is more easily uttered. Men are just about as guilty as women indulging in this pastime of running somebody else down with comment that has but sleazy substance.

With critical comment you can play the field of animate or inanimate subjects.

Perhaps no city department gets more day by day lampooning than the police, in Sedalia or elsewhere.

When radar was obtained as a device to check speeders the police became victims of all sorts of vilification. This happens every time they attempt to check an outbreak of fast driving. The idea seems to persist that Sedalia's police are doing this just to annoy motorists. We've heard it said the police were arresting thousands of motorists in an ever intensive crusade.

Now this is not the fact at all. The annual report of Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors refutes this fallacious statement. Actually in 1957 there were 11 less speeders arrested than in 1956, and the total was 357, far under thousands. Decrease in speeder arrests indicates there has developed public awareness among Sedalia motorists that the police mean to enforce speed zone laws here. They should not be discouraged in this activity which already reflects a safety record of long standing.

We'd like to bet a dried up apple seed that most of the critics of the police department didn't take time to read the department's annual report.

Those who did certainly are reassured that Sedalia's police were not idle last year. A bunch of loafers couldn't have been responsible for the activity which took two columns of 8 pt. type in the newspaper to report. Pertinent to this were the 103 increased calls answered, and 427 more arrests than in 1956.

The report reveals that noisy automobiles racing about the streets are on a decline which is good news to those allergic to the din of popping exhausts.

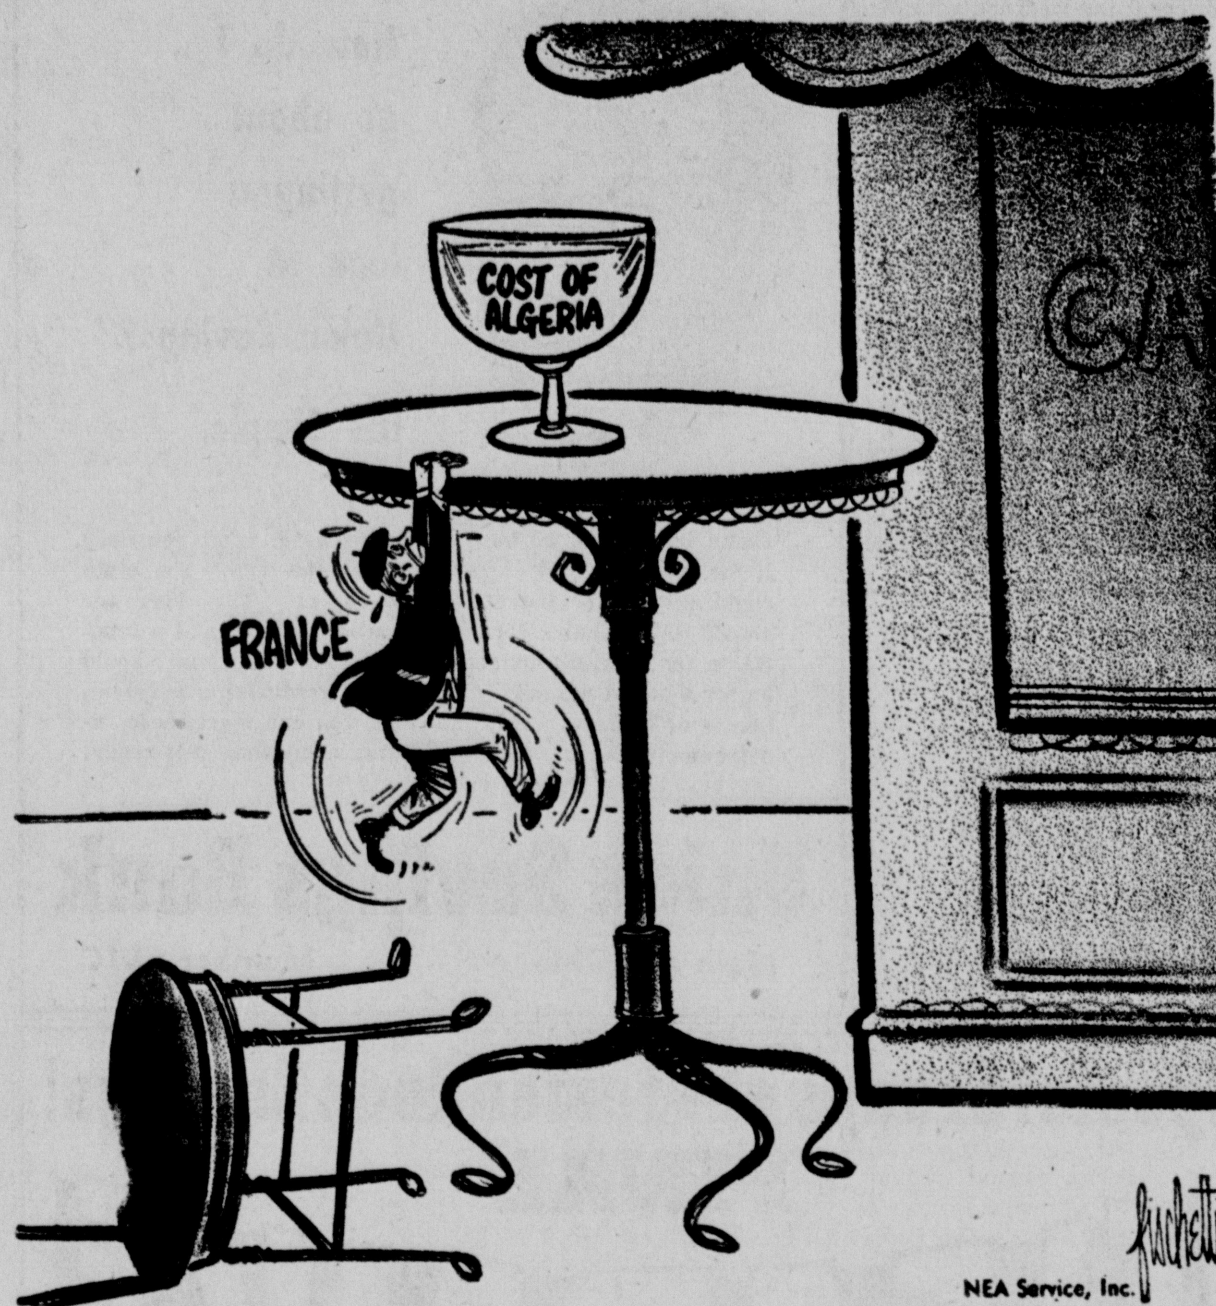

A sad commentary on motorists' behavior was the notation that 29 persons failed to remain at the scene of an accident and were arrested. This is inexcusable of drivers.

Another significant paragraph stated that 338 doors of downtown businesses were found unlocked as against 211 in 1956, but there was a decrease in open windows. Locking the windows and leaving the doors open is a reversal of security measures on the part of store owners. This doesn't make sense to the police or anyone else.

That Sedalia's police department had a busy year is emphatically revealed by the annual report of Chief Neighbors.

Such activity on behalf of the security of Sedalians certainly warrants commendation rather than calumny.

You and Your Arteries

What You Eat May Be a Big Factor

By Herbert Pollack, M.D.
NYU Post Graduate School of Medicine

NEW YORK—It is now an accepted fact that the basis for good health and well-being is optimum nutrition.

As a consequence, one of the first things that occurs to many people when confronted with a non-infectious or chronic degenerative state is the thought that the disorder may be of possible dietary origin. This is not always true.

Dr. Pollack

Where do we stand in the research fight against man's leading health enemy—atherosclerosis or hardening of the arteries? In support of the February Heart Fund campaign, four noted authorities have prepared a special progress report on the battle. This dispatch, the second, was written by Dr. Herbert Pollack, associate professor of clinical medicine at New York University Post Graduate School of Medicine.

In the case of atherosclerosis, more commonly known as "hardening of the arteries," there is evidence that the food intake may be one of the important contributors. To date, it has not been possible to locate the specific nutritional factors involved.

Under investigation by medical scientists throughout the world are several dietary constituents: cholesterol, total fat, soft fats (vegetable fats and marine oils), hard fats (saturated fats of animal origin), artificially hardened fats (hydrogenated vegetable oils), certain vitamins (particularly B6), total calories and the closely associated obesity and exercise, starches, and certain types of protein.

Valentine Party at School

All week the box of red and white,
With all its hearts and lace,
Has been a mystery and delight
There in its honored place.
For in the slot there in the top
The youngsters have pushed through
The Valentines, as each would drop,
You can't help wonder who,
And then—at last—here comes the day—
The box is very full—
"It's time" you hear the teacher say,
As out of it she'll pull
The first one with its hearts and frills,
A lovely Valentine,
And I can feel those little thrills
Just hoping it is mine—
Then one by one we hear her call
The names of girls and boys,
And until she has called them all
There isn't any noise—
My Valentines are stacked up high,
I'm proud as I can be—
And somehow I just wonder why
So many sent to me—
At one I blush a little bit,
It's prettier than the rest,
I'm extra special proud of it
Because I like him best,
I look around the room and see
That no one has been missed,
They've one at least—it is from me,
'Cause all were on my list,
We'll have refreshments now, I think,
And I can hardly wait.
The heart-shaped cookies iced in pink,
Upon a paper plate:
There's ice cream in a little cup,
And candy hearts with rhymes,
There's chocolate milk that we drink up
We have the grandest times,
The Valentines that I receive
I love them every one,
On Valentine's Day I believe
Just all the kids have fun.
Hazel N. Lang.

NO EGG ON HIS FACE: Experimental animal in St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, protests offer of cholesterol-rich egg from Dr. C. Bruce Taylor, who has induced hardening of the arteries in monkeys with high-cholesterol food diet. Tie-in between diet and atherosclerosis in humans is yet to be proved.

Exercise, starches, and certain types of protein.

Out of this complexity certain facts begin to emerge. Dietary cholesterol, or the cholesterol you eat, plays a very minor, if any role in the development of atherosclerosis. Evidence that tends to relate atherosclerosis to the fat intake is difficult to separate from that which relates it to total caloric intake, obesity and exercise.

Experimentally it can be shown that the soft fats, or vegetable oils, when given as a "formula diet," can lower the cholesterol content of the blood. Whether this is im-

Missing The Point

Officials Should Keep Actions Above Suspicion

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — It is much more important for public officials to maintain the appearance of impartiality than Federal Communications Commission chairman John Doerfer seems to think.

Doerfer was aggrieved and angry when he came before a special House Committee on Legislative Oversight. He told the Committee, of which Rep. Morgan Moulder (D-Mo.) is chairman, that its investigators had tried to "smear" his reputation by "distortion and innuendo."

The record shows Doerfer has accepted money from industry associations. For example, he accepted $575 from the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters in connection with a trip to Spokane in 1954. He also drew government expense money for the trip. His wife accompanied him.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, head of the General Accounting Office, doubted the propriety and legality of Doerfer's actions. Campbell told the Congressmen there was a grave question as to whether government officials should accept costly gifts and favors from the industry they are supposed to regulate.

Doerfer doesn't see it that way at all. He cited a provision of the law which authorizes members of the FCC to accept "honorariums" for speeches. The FCC chairman does not admit to any impropriety. By his standards, the only issue is whether he was being compensated for speeches or whether an industry association was paying for traveling expenses of himself and his wife.

Skipping lightly over the many apparent inconsistencies between his past actions and his testimony as given, it must still be noted that he has missed the point entirely. The issue does not turn on the legality of his accepting an "honorarium," in the form of paid travel expenses. (And actually, the figures produced by the congressional investigators indicate that Mr. and Mrs. Doerfer received $1,000.87 from broadcasting interests for the five day trip in 1954.)

At issue is the public behavior of an important government official. Mr. Doerfer is chairman of a quasi-judicial commission, which regulates a multi-million dollar industry in behalf of the entire nation, and which has the power to confer operating licenses worth millions to the holders. Now a fellow with such a job should strive to be above suspicion.

Doerfer has put himself and the FCC under suspicion. And he doesn't know it. At one point in the hearing, he heatedly asserted that "your counsel (Bernard Schwartz is counsel of the Moulder committee) assumes that a public official could be improperly influenced by a luncheon, a dinner, or a stay at a hotel. . . If the public officials of America could be so easily influenced, then God save the republic."

For the fellow holding a position as important as that held by Doerfer, it's not enough to be an honest free-loader, bumbling about the country at the expense of interested industry. The actions of such an official should be of a dignity that becomes the office.

Looking Backward...

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The coldest weather prevailed here in many years, the temperature at 3 a.m. Feb. 8 being ten degrees below zero. Missouri Pacific buses which had been out of service the previous day were again running.

A. Allan Karf, formerly manager of the Sedalia and Liberty Theatres, is the new manager of the Fox Auditorium Theatre in Marshall relieving Howard E. White, who had been temporary manager since Jan. 14.

The Rev. Robert Lee Davidson, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, died at the home of his son, Prof. Robert L. Davidson, Jr., Columbia. He served as pastor here and during a leave of absence granted him was a YMCA worker overseas in the World War.

The first annual convocation of Missouri pastors closed at the First M. E. Church, its sessions being cut short by the extremely cold weather. It was voted to have the 1934 convention in Sedalia.

F. A. Sampson, former Sedalian, vice-president of the Missouri Trust Co. in Sedalia for 20 years and former editor of the Missouri Historical Review, died at Parker Memorial Hospital in Columbia.

A two-story residence, Fourth and Grand, occupied by Thomas Garrett was gutted by fire originating in a roof Saturday.

Charles Ogle, Sedalian, who had been a second lieutenant in the quartermaster corps at Camp Funston, was promoted to first lieutenant.

Thomas H. McKenna, 27 years district U. S. deputy marshal, died at his home in Jefferson City.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

The New Threat To Near East Peace

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In Damascus last September, the Syrian chief of staff, Gen. Afif Bizri, gave me a prediction which I didn't quite believe. He predicted that Syria and Egypt would unite.

General Bizri is a rather young, blunt-spoken Army officer who seemed to revere all things Russian but claimed he wasn't worried about Syria becoming Communist. After telling me to take careful notes, he also predicted that within a few weeks the Syrian and Egyptian armies would unite under one command.

This took place a month later, in October. And this month, February, General Bizri's second prediction of Egyptian-Syrian unity was announced in Damascus and Cairo.

This poses some dangerous problems to the peace of the Near East. It poses a danger first, to Lebanon, a half-Christian, half-Arab nation which already has friction with Syria and doesn't want to be engulfed; second, to Israel which faces Russian-armed Syrian and Egyptian armies on two borders.

But most immediately, it will present a grave problem to the precarious kingdom of Jordan, which bears the same relation to Egypt and Syria that a slice of ham does to two pieces of bread. As a sandwich it has to be swallowed.

In order to unite effectively, Egypt and Syria have got to have common borders, and taking over Jordan will be the first step in that direction. Israel will be next.

Jordan is a vast expanse of desert containing a few historical cities such as old Jerusalem, Bethlehem, where Christ was born, and Jericho whose walls have never been rebuilt; and also containing a population of almost 1,000,000 Palestinians, who don't like little King Hussein, plus about half a million Bedouins who do.

If Egypt and Syria swallow Jordan, as they are almost certain to try to do within the next nine months, then the new Arab combine will almost be united—though not quite, only the gulf of Aqaba, the Israeli city of Elath, and the Negev desert of Israel will separate them. Distance is so short in the Holy Land and the two united Arab countries will be so close together that Israel cannot possibly let them get that close—especially with Russian arms of the most modern type pouring into both Egypt and Syria. So, if Jordan is threatened Israel would be almost certain to act.

The Near East, therefore, long the most dangerous spot in the world, becomes even more dangerous with the new unity between Egypt and Syria.

Nixon's Ambitious Proposal
Richard Nixon, who has toured most of the world since becoming vice president, has now offered to go to Moscow.

His plan as outlined at the White House and State Department would be to fly to Russia this spring and talk with Nikita Khrushchev in a general exploratory manner regarding a "summit" conference. The Nixon plan would be to test out Russian sincerity and see how far they would be willing to go.

Instead of the ambassadorial negotiations which John Foster Dulles has proposed, Nixon would conduct the exploration himself. Then if Khrushchev indicated he was really ready to smooth out the startled kinks in American-Russian relations and end the cold war, Nixon would recommend that a summit conference be held fairly soon.

State Department advisers are a bit skeptical over Nixon's dramatic gesture. They feel that as smart as the vice president is, he may be no match for the tough, sharp-trading Khrushchev. They also remember that Nixon took a valiant stab at getting Dictator Somosa of Nicaragua together with President Figueres of Costa Rica, but failed. They also see undercurrents of Madison Avenue politics in Nixon's ambitious proposal.

However, the vice president seems to be dead serious and is anxious to go ahead. He was apparently impressed by the visit of Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin who went out of his way to call on Nixon at Capitol Hill before he left for Moscow.

Note—The Kremlin has made it a definite policy to warm up to Nixon. Apparently they believe that Nixon may be in the White House before 1960, and if not, then certainly thereafter.

Science For Peace

The President's "Science for Peace" program to attain "a good life for all" not only suggests but urges the Soviet Union to join in a five-year program for the global eradication of malaria. The World Health Organization is already at work on this program with a budget of $315,000,000 of which the U. S. is contributing $108,400,000. President Eisenhower stated our willingness to pool our efforts with the Russians in other campaigns such as cancer and heart disease.

"If people can get together on such projects," he asked, "is it not possible that we could then go on a full scale cooperative program of science for peace?"

Missionaries and private organizations have but this is the first time that a president has come forth with such great emphasis upon them in a message so significant as his State of the Union one. Also this is the first time that the Federal Government has indicated in a positive way its willingness to enter into cooperative research against mankind's greatest killers on a partnership basis with the Soviet Union.

When there are two divergent ideologies seeking supremacy in a world which faces extermination if the use of scientific weapons is exercised, it would seem high time they seek some level upon which they can agree and work together. Eradication of disease is one which is underdeveloped countries for many years been working together along humanitarian lines can supply this level.

Pot Versus Kettle

At Chicago President Eisenhower declared that the nation's defense problems ought to be off-limits to politicians in this congressional election year.

This is a sentiment that most Americans probably support warmly. Where their security is plainly involved, people want no hocus-pocus of false charge and counter charge. They want both major parties to collaborate in a quest for truth, and where necessary to translate that truth into legislative action.

But they must have read with some puzzlement, on the very same morning reports of the President's talk appeared, that White House aide Sherman Adams had blasted the Democrats in a Minneapolis speech for allegedly playing politics with defense.

If politics in defense is to be barred, one would guess that you have to make a start by avoiding accusations at the outset that the other fellow already has broken the rules.

KING CITY (Mo.) TRI-COUNTY NEWS: Wonder if it ever occurs to folks who stew and fret over juvenile delinquency that we may have legislated ourselves into it. Our child labor and minimum wage laws have made it somewhat risky for a small business to employ a school boy or girl as a learner or apprentice, but you hardly ever hear of a kid who carries a paper route or works in a store or shop evenings and Saturdays to earn part of his keep getting into trouble.

New Chemical Works Fine On Johnson Grass

Parke Green, who has a farm in the Flat Creek bottom just below the Sedalia water works, has been fighting Johnson grass for 30 years. Parke believes it started when the contractor that laid the pipeline from the lake to the waterworks shipped in some baled Johnson Grass from Texas to feed his horses.

Parke has been using a field cultivator in the fall and winter and practicing heavy grazing in the summer for years. He feels that exposing the roots to hard freezing weather and never allowing it to go to seed has prevented a solid stand of Johnson grass on every acre of his crop land. He has never lost any cattle from the grazing.

Last year Parke tried Dalapon, which is a new chemical, on scattered stands of Johnson Grass in his corn fields and fence rows. In the cornfield he sprayed twice. The first spraying was done before disking the plowed ground. The second application was made in the corn between cultivations. He also sprayed twice in the fence rows. He had a good kill on some that was two feet tall. Parke feels that this is the only control for Johnson grass in fence rows. He had some to come up in his new seeding of red clover this fall which he sprayed and killed. It had been years since he had seen any Johnson Grass growing in this field. This came from seed which had laid dormant in the soil for years. Parke is of the opinion that land to be in row crops continually will have Johnson grass thicker each year unless sprayed with the new chemical. Parke reported on his Johnson Grass control at the Soils and Crops Conference Saturday.

Farm Boy Spends Hour Plucking Money Tree

BROOKLYN, Wis. (AP) — A 16-year-old farm boy walking home from school spent a pleasant hour picking money off trees.

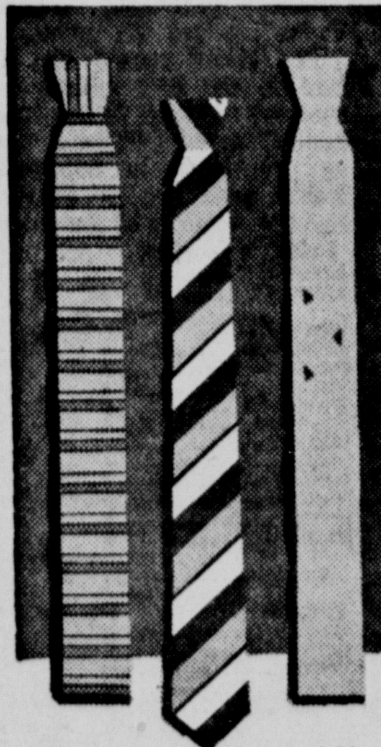

And the Brooklyn State Bank is grateful.

Seems that a mail pouch bearing $13,500 consigned to the bank was tossed from a nonstop Chicago & North Western train, but instead of landing on the station platform was sucked under the speeding wheels.

The mishap went unnoticed in this community of about 500 until Warren Fleisman started walking home along the tracks. He saw some green paper on underbrush along the right of way. Money. He picked up a bundle—$20 bills.

Presently Warren walked back to the village and talked it over with the village marshal. They both went back and walked along the tracks.

The two between them found $13,485 of the missing $13,500.

Hughesville Wins Elbel Builders Edge Lee's Summit for 3rd Lions Tournament

Western Auto Fails to Stop Late Spree

BULLETIN

The towering Hughesville Independents ripped Western Auto's defenses Saturday night to score an 88-66 victory and claim the 1936 Lions Club Invitational Basketball Tournament title.

The two teams played nip-and-tuck through the first half before the Hughesville aggregation put on a razzle-dazzle offensive exhibition in the second half that gave them a comfortable 75-55 lead early in the fourth quarter, and Western Auto never threatened.

Lloyd Shireman topped Hughesville's scoring with 21 points and J. D. Gregory and Larry Wells contributed 16 and 17, respectively.

Jim Fall led Western Auto's offense with 13 points and Bill Holst and Bob Hughes added 12 each.

Score by quarters:
Hughesville 23 17 24—88
Western Auto 15 21 15—66

An overtime period was necessary to settle the third-quarter winners of the tournament Saturday night between Elbel Builders of Kansas City and Lee's Summit. Elbel's came out third by winning the contest 94-91, Lee's Summit, the loser, placed fourth.

It was anybody's game up to the final 30 seconds of the overtime, as both teams battled basket-for-basket from the tipoff until the horn sounded ending the contest. At no time from the opening until the end were the two teams more than six points apart and the breach was closed quickly.

Lee's Summit enjoyed a one quarter edge in the first quarter of the game having 20 points to Elbel's 18 for that portion of the game. But Elbel's had one quarter in the regular playing to call their own and that was the second when they scored 27 to Lee's Summit's 25.

The intermission period saw the game all knotted up, 45-45, and that's the way it continued.

Both teams battled a 20-20 third quarter and a 16-16 fourth quarter with the regular playing time of the game being all tied up 81-81.

The overtime stanza saw the two teams fighting back and fourth and with about 30 seconds left it was 91-91 when a foul was called and Elbel picked up a one-point edge of 92-91. It was nearly tied when Ralph Osborne fouled Sam Wiggins of Lee's Summit, and he missed his chance in tying it up. One more basket ended the game down 94-91 for Elbel Builders.

Horne of Lee's Summit was high man for the game with 22 points off of 10 goals and two free throws. Troy John of Lee's Summit scored 8-2 for 19 points and Monte Cass 8-1 for 17. For Elbel's, Ralph Osborne sparked his team in scoring getting seven goals and six free throws for 20 points while Jack Hicks had 8 and 2 for 18. Bill Edwards 6-5 for 17 and Don Ross 8-1 for 17.

Friday Night Games
The Friday night games of the tournament were exceptionally good as Hughesville came through to defeat Elbel Builders at Kansas City 87-74 and Western Auto moved over Lee's Summit 72-54 to advance into the finals. The Builders and Lee's Summit went into the third-fourth place game.

In the opening game of the evening Hughesville jumped to a safe lead of 23 to 8. Elbel settled down in the second but were unable to outscore their opponents as Hughesville collected 23 to 21. Halftime gave Hughesville a 47 to 20 lead. In the third quarter it was Elbel 16-10 and the fourth, Hughesville 30 to 29.

Lloyd Shireman had the high night scoring 11 goals and seven free throws for 29 points while Larry Wells hit a 7-7 for 21 points for Hughesville. Top man for Elbel was Ralph Osborne with 8 and 4 for 20 points as Dan Ross dropped in eight goals for 16 points.

The second game saw perfect teamwork between the Western Auto aggregation with the team sparked by Otto Holst. They moved ahead in the first quarter over

Barr Third In Ping Pong; Title Tilt Off

Cliff Barr sailed into third place in the Lions Table Tennis tournament held in conjunction with the basketball tournament at Horace Mann school, defeating Dick Esser.

The championship game between W. C. "Wink" Ream and George Thompson had to be postponed until later due to Thompson having to referee a basketball game at Central College in Fayette. Thompson notified Ream of the necessity of going to Fayette and Ream agreed to play it after the final game of the basketball tournament or later.

Barr had little trouble with Esser in their match for the third and fourth place spots in the tournament. The first set was won by Barr 21-14, he took the second 21-16, and ended the play, three games straight, by scoring a 21-14 victory in the third set.

Friday Night Matches
In the Table Tennis tournament semi-final games Friday night, George Thompson moved in on Dick Esser to win three straight and move into the finals. W. C. "Wink" Ream and Cliff Barr had to go the limit for a decision with Ream taking 3-2 for the victory.

Ream and Thompson meeting in the finals with Esser and Barr going to the third-fourth place game.

Esser had worked himself into a favored position as he defeated his first two opponents 3-0 and 3-0, but found Thompson ready for the paddling on Friday.

Barr had defeated his first two opponents 3-2 and 3-0 to meet Ream whose record was 3-0 over his first opponent and 3-1 on the second.

Pintos Stop Kewpies' Win Skein at 20

The Tri-County Conference, long considered one of the best basketball hoops in Central Missouri, collected a surprise dividend Friday night when the California Pintos upset the previously undefeated Hickman Kewpies of Columbia, 58-56, in the semi-finals of the 27th annual Eldon Invitational Tournament.

The loss was the first of the season for the Kewpies, who had racked up 20 consecutive victories. For Coach Danny Williams' Californians, it was victory number 19 against four setbacks.

Hickman started out in familiar fashion and commanded a 16-11 first period lead. The Pintos bounced back in the second quarter to tie the count at 31-all at intermission. Again in the third period the Kewpies took the lead, 48-44, but California met the challenge in the final stanza and claimed the win on a two-point jump before the final buzzer.

Louis Gabert, 6-foot-1 junior, poked in 23 points to lead the Pintos. Two other junior standouts, Donnie Flippin and Eddie Hert, contributed 12 and 11 points, respectively, to the victorious cause. J. C. Prescott topped the Kewpies' offensive with 21 counters, followed by George Hulet's 14.

In the other semi-finals battle, the third seeded Eldon Mustangs put together a hot hand in the overtime period to put down Salem, 75-66. The game was 62-all at the end of regulation play. Reed and Thompson potted 22 points apiece for Eldon while Adams and Hedrick got 23 and 22, respectively, for Salem.

In consolation games, the Warsaw Wildcats were nipped by Iberia, 64-63, and St. James slaughtered Eugene, 97-60. Warsaw held a 31-29 halftime margin, but lost its lead in the final period. Sophomore Joe Freund and Freshman Eddie Scott netted 25 and 24 points, respectively, to dominate Warsaw's attack.

Nelson Scores 44-43 Victory Over Bunceton

Nelson scored a 44-43 victory over the highly regarded Bunceton Dragons Friday night behind the 21 point production of Gary LaBoube.

Nelson, trailing 12-7 at the end of the first quarter, staged a second quarter comeback and trailed 20-19 at the half. Coach O. A. Metz' crew went ahead in the third frame, 31-27, before the Dragons regained a two point lead in the final period with four minutes to go.

Nelson again rallied to take a three point lead with one minute to go and Bunceton hit a field goal with 30 seconds remaining, then missed a free throw. Nelson took the rebound and controlled the ball until the final gun.

Sherman Scheid supported LaBoube with 11 points and Charles Huecker led the Dragons with 11, followed by Estell Williams with 10 points.

In a preliminary contest, Bunceton's lady cage team scored a decisive 53-29 victory over Nelson's girls. Linhart led the victors with 22 points, and Marilyn Becker led Nelson with 12.

Sacred Heart Falls 43-22 To Smithton

The Sacred Heart Gremlins, playing without the services of high scoring Don Ressel, were walloped 43-22 Friday night by the powerful Smithton Tigers after the volleyball team defeated Smithton's girls 37-42 and the "B" basketball team triumphed 35-32. The games were played on the Sedalia court.

The Tigers completely outclassed Sacred-Heart throughout the game as not a Gremlin scored more than six points. Smithton took a 10-4 first quarter lead and was never threatened. The Tigers made it 24-10 at the halftime.

The only points scored in the third frame by Sacred Heart came on a lone field goal by Paul Bennett. Smithton led 35-12 at the three quarters mark.

Junior Monsees led the Tigers with 13 points, followed by Kahrs and DeMoss with ten each. Terry Menefee was high for the Gremlins with six.

In the volleyball game, Sacred Heart lost no time in getting a comfortable lead and held an 18-5 margin at halftime. Bahner led the winners with 10 points and Hiltonberg was high for Smithton with three.

In the "B" game, the two teams battled to a 16-16 deadlock at the half before Smithton opened up in the third quarter to take a 27-19 lead. However, the Gremlins bounced back in the final frame to score 16 points and held the Tigers to five for the triumph.

Bennett led the Gremlins with 15 points and Ned Monsees topped Smithton's offensive with 12 markers.

Tigers Smother Lexington To Win Consolation Title

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

SEDALIA'S need for a modern up-to-date auditorium grows stronger and stronger each day. Sedallians were asked many times the past week by visitors "what happened to the new auditorium Sedalia was going to get?" It wasn't easy to reply "we just didn't vote one."

The Lions tournament attracted several hundred outsiders the past week to see teams play in the Invitational Tournament at Horace Mann School. Of course some of these outsiders were from neighboring towns who had out the "needle" about Sedalia's not wanting a fine building where activities could be carried on and to accommodate many people instead of just a few fans and participants.

But the question came from players from towns like Lee's Summit and Kansas City, who last year heard about Sedalia planning to build a fine auditorium where tournaments could be played, conventions could be held, community meets and such. But they came back to play in the "same old stand."

Thanks to the Sedalia Public School Board for being considerate and letting the Lions hold the tournament there. Several factors arose as to why it was not played at convention hall, but the court in the school gym is much better, seating capacity small, however.

It is something for Sedallians to begin thinking about and giving it more favorable consideration. Sedalia is located just right for the center of athletics and in spite of the pull back of some, athletics continue but not on a scale they could.

A large majority of the Lions Club members believe the consideration of the Hall and fire stations as well be reconsidered in the not too far distant future.

THE Table Tennis tournament sponsored by the Lions has revived the play among some ping pong experts who laid their paddles down long ago. Now plans have been started to revive the sport in a big way in Sedalia by organization of a Table Tennis Association.

Although only sixteen persons entered the tournament, a full tournament bracket, a number of the "sideliners" became interested and started asking questions about the sport. The first two nights it was more of an educational play to those watching but by the last half of the tournament it became a sport that more people would like to participate in.

The swinging of those paddles looked very simple, but there's plenty of exercise and work to it, not to fail to mention the art of keeping the eye on the ball.

These who are interested in the Table Tennis Association, or local club, can obtain further information regarding it from either W. C. Ream, Bob Fingland, Kenneth Buchholz, Dick Esser, Tom Delph or about any of those who played in the tournament.

If the cold weather keeps up some of Sedalia's merchants who over the past few years have been "stuck" with ice skates will be seeing them leave their stores. The near zero weather has put Liberty Park in fairly good ice-skating condition and some of the farm ponds have ice thick enough for skating.

But skaters who plan on doing the figure eight and a few other fancy skating tricks are warned to first give the ice a good test before venturing too far out. Some ponds have been reported ice covered but the ice is thin in the middle.

Pettis County and Sedalia isn't ready for any such tragedies as some boy or girl or even adults getting themselves down for lack of being cautious on testing the ice before venturing out on skates.

In NAIA Play-Offs at KC
With the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball championships a month away (March 10-15 in Kansas City) jockeying for play-off spots is becoming more intense.

And things are far from placid on the Pacific. In NAIA District No. 1 (Washington) are two of the most discussed teams in the nation. One is Pacific Lutheran, too seeded last year and which finished third, losing to eventual champion Tennessee State A. and by one slim point in the semi-finals. The other is Gonzaga university with the gigantic Gaul, Jean Lefebvre of France, who is 7 feet, 3 1/4 inches tall.

Pacific Lutheran returns five of its six top tournament scorers from the 1957 tournament, headed by Chuck Curtis and Jim Iverson, both all-tourney selections last March. The Lutes have an 11-2 record and both the losses were early in the season to Gonzaga. But Gonzaga isn't counting itself in as yet for Lutheran is a tough experienced team and will be troublesome.

Dropping down to District 2 (Oregon) reveals Portland university, a representative here eight times including last year when they bowed to Tennessee State in the second round, holding another fine hand. The Pilots had a 9-7 record through January but along the way have taken victories over DePaul and Bradley and have played several of the larger teams in the Northwest. They hold two victories over Portland State, another rival for the district berth.

California, District 3, shows little Chapman college of Orange and Pasadena college with 14-3 records as February started. Another of the better teams is University of California at Santa Barbara, which, for what it's worth, handed Chapman a 5-point defeat and lost to Pasadena by four. San Diego State also is a factor despite a rugged schedule. All three of Chapman's defeats, incidentally, have been avenged by victories over Santa Barbara, Whitier and Chico State.

Texas has two districts, No. 4 in the East and No. 8 in the West. In District 4 East Texas State, champion of the 1955 tournament, has one of the better records, 11-5 through the first weekend in February, including two victories over Stephen F. Austin College (13-5). Southwest Texas State has 8-4.

West Texas shows no clear pattern as yet, with each team taking turns knocking the others down. Abilene Christian had 10-11 through the first weekend in February and Midwestern had 9-12. Wayland is a factor at 8-9.

District 7 is a sprawling affair encompassing Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Utah. Eastern New Mexico is undefeated in district NAIA play and with an overall 10-9 record. Arizona State (Flagstaff) is pressing with 10-4, including a 9-1 record against district competition. Colorado Mines leads the northern division with

NAIA Swimming Meet To Be Held Mar. 14-15

The second annual swimming championships of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics will be held March 14-15 at Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Ind.

The first championships were held last year at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. Dr. John O. Lewellen, swimming coach and professor of physical education at Ball State, will serve as tournament chairman for the meet.

The competition will be in the Ball State pool, which is a regulation 25-yard pool with six lanes. The diving competition will be off the pool's aluminum boards. Provision is made for 200 swimmers and seating is available for 500 spectators.

A team trophy and medal awards for the first five finishers in each event are to be given.

Events are: 400-yard medley relay; 220-yard freestyle; 50-yard freestyle; 200-yard butterfly; 100-yard freestyle; 200-yard backstroke; 440-yard freestyle; 200-yard breast stroke; 400-yard freestyle relay and diving.

College High, Orioles Win In Tourney

The undefeated Concordia Orioles continued their winning ways Friday night, dumping Mayview, 56-41, to move into the finals of the Concordia Invitational Tournament.

Coach Artie Elwell's Orioles jumped ahead 13-11 in the first quarter, but escaped the pressure by building up a comfortable lead in the second period, 31-19. Larry Borgstadt and Paul Holsten led the Orioles with 16 and 18 points.

In the other semi-finals contest, Coach Clarence Whiteman's Warrensburg College High Colts measured St. Paul's College High of Concordia, 60-53, with Mohler, Ozias and Baile carrying the offensive load. Mohler paced the Colts with 22 and Baile and Ozias got 18 and 14 points, respectively.

St. Paul's buzzed in front in the opening period, 13-7, and increased its advantage to 30-21 at halftime. The Colts, again proving their second half strength, rallied to take the lead in the third period, 40-37. Koppelman paced St. Paul's with 14 tallies.

The Hughesville Wildcats moved into the consolation championship round by stopping Sweet Springs, 47-44. The "Cats" shoved off with an 11-point lead in the first period, 16-5, and commanded at 27-15 halftime advantage, but were forced to battle off a fine rally by the hustling Sweet Springs crew in the last half—which saw the losers outscore Hughesville, 29-20.

Frank Payne, Hughesville's 6-foot-2 senior, potted 15 points to lead the winners and Gaylon Gray and Larry Weathers chipped in with ten apiece. Donnelly of Sweet Springs took game scoring honors with 17 markers.

Harry Anderson of the Philadelphia Phillies hit 17 home runs last season to tie the Phillie record for most homers by a rookie. Del Ennis set the mark in 1946.

2-1 against district play. Adams State follows.

District 5, Montana, Wyoming and Eastern Idaho, shows a hot battle between Rocky Mountain college (16-1) and Western Montana which may be conclusive.

Somewhere in these Western districts may come a surprise team—it happens frequently—to make these others take a back seat. One thing is sure: there's lots of competition for the 32 National Intercollegiate finals berths.

WHAT A FARMER MUST INVEST TO EARN $2,500

MAKING HAY TAKES MONEY—To realize an annual $2,500 profit, family farm operators need investments of from $14,000 to $89,000, depending upon where the farm is located and the type of crop raised. The figures are the result of a study conducted by the Agricultural Research Service in six widely separated sections of the country. Operator's earnings are defined as gross farm income minus total farm expenses, capital charges, or interest on investment for the privilege of using the farm resources, and an allowance for unpaid family labor used on the farm.

Rev. Pike's
Trail Leads To California

NEW YORK (AP)—From the Roman Catholic Church to an agnostic lawyer to Protestant Episcopal bishop of California seems strange and tortuous trail.

It's the one followed by the Very Rev. James Albert Pike, currently dean of New York's Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the third largest cathedral in the world.

Dean Pike last week accepted nomination to become bishop of California when present Bishop Karl Morgan Block retires next December. It's a big step for a 44-year-old man who completed his religious training only 12 years ago.

The bishop-to-be was raised a Roman Catholic in California. He attended Santa Clara University, a West Coast Jesuit school. He had inclinations toward the priesthood.

At the end of his second college year, he transferred to the University of California at Los Angeles and changed his vocational aims to law. Religiously, he became what he describes as a "humanist agnostic."

"I threw out the baby with the bath water," he tells interviewers. Pursuit of a law career led him through the University of Southern California and Yale Law School, from which he received a doctorate in 1938. He was admitted to the California and federal bars.

While teaching at George Washington University Law School and lawing for the Securities and Exchange Commission — he married Esther Yanovsky, one of his students.

About this time a "growing sense of vacuum" rekindled his religious interest. He and his wife joined the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Dean Pike was an attorney for the U.S. Maritime Commission and the War Shipping Administration when he began studying for the ministry. He was ordained to the Episcopal priesthood in 1946.

Three years later, he became head of the department of religion at Columbia University, where his work attracted the attention of the Very Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, Episcopal bishop of New York.

The post of dean at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine had been vacant for 10 years when Dr. Pike was named to it in 1952. Some 3,000 persons crowded the cathedral for his installation.

As dean, Dr. Pike administered cathedral properties, supervised its employees, presided at meetings of the cathedral chapter and preached sermons (notably short; rarely over 15 minutes).

The outspoken dean also found time to get embroiled in controversy.

He had been dean scarcely a year when he withdrew as baccalaureate preacher and declined an honorary degree from the University of the South (Sewanee, an Episcopal school in Tennessee) because of its attitude on racial segregation. Said Dean Pike: "I could not in conscience receive a doctorate in the white dish."

Mrs. Howard Gwinn

Parent-Teacher Council Honors District President At Luncheon

In observance of Founders Day the Sedalia Parent-Teacher Council held a luncheon meeting and program on Wednesday, Feb. 5, at which time a special tribute was paid to Mrs. Howard Gwinn, 667 East Tenth, who is district president of the Sedalia District.

The meeting, which was held at the First Baptist Church, was presided over by Mrs. Sam Knapp, Council president, and invocation was given by the Rev. J. R. Wallace, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Tom Gray, Mark Twain School, gave an inspiring devotional on helping by giving of one's skill. She ended the devotional with prayer.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Gene Owen with Mrs. Jack Herndon at the piano.

Mrs. Worth Wilson then pinned a yellow carnation corsage to which was attached a yellow key on each of the past Council presidents at the meeting as their names were called by Mrs. Oliver Thomas, secretary. They were Mrs. W. C. Housel, who served from 1929 to 1931; Mrs. William L. Reed, who served from 1937-1939; Mrs. John Loague who served from 1948 to 1950; Mrs. Nathalia Poynter, 1953-54; Mrs. Lawrence Dailey, who now lives in Springfield, 1954-55 and Mrs. Howard Gwinn, 1955-56. The names and their years of service of all former presidents, some of whom could not come and several of whom have died, were read.

Mrs. Oliver Thomas was in charge of the afternoon program. On Founders Day, said Mrs. Thomas, we pay tribute to the two women, Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, who 61 years ago feeling the need of such an organization as the PTA and carrying through on the idea which was conceived by Mrs. Birney, organized the National Congress of Mothers which later became PTA.

It has been the women who have kept this organization alive through the years, too, said Mrs. Thomas, who deserve recognition. She pointed out that there was one woman who started in PTA work in 1946 and through the years since that time has contributed so much to child welfare in the community. She then called Mrs. Gwinn to the platform and said: "Margaret, this is your PTA life".

Seated on the platform, Mrs. Gwinn was given a gold container and one by one those who had worked with her in PTA work came to the platform, telling little things they remembered that had happened as they worked with her, each bringing a flower which they placed in the container. Seated with her on the platform was her husband, Howard J. Gwinn, and among those who brought flowers were her teenage son and daughter, Jimmy and Delores. Her four-year-old daughter, Ruth Ann, had stage fright and refused to take up her flower.

From the very first, when she joined PTA after Jimmy started to school at Washington School, she was put to work as leader of the parent education class, the next year she was on the nominating committee and put on a skit. From that time on she seemed to do anything they called on her to do, held offices in the Washington PTA until she was finally president, she started the luncheon at the school, served on all sorts of committees, went into PTA Council work, and finally was appointed district president of the Sedalia District in October, 1955.

Such things were recalled as when the PTA needed the school district map while Miss Bessie Perkins, principal of Washington School was in the hospital. Mrs. Gwinn hunted all over the school for it, and finally she had to draw one. When Miss Perkins came back to school she walked right over to the closet and there it was. And then there was the time when the district meeting was held in Sedalia and there was almost a cloudburst. The Sedalians got there first and parked their cars right, the people from out of town came later and Mrs. Gwinn learned to her horror, nearly all of them got parking tickets. There have been times when she filled in at some school PTA meeting when the person who was to have given the devotional didn't show up, and even once when the speaker didn't show up she gave the address. She has rushed from installing officers at one school to install officers at another school one evening and no matter which school needed her she was always right there.

As district president she has been on the go constantly, because the Sedalia district comprises six counties — Benton, Cooper, Moniteau, Morgan, Pettis and Saline. Sometimes she has made meetings at two and three places in one day and she never let the snow or anything interfere. Once she lost her notebook with her installation ceremony in it when she went to Versailles and the woman with her was so worried but decided her worry was all for nothing — Margaret didn't need her little note book. She went right through the installation beautifully with no effort at all.

One by one they came on, Howard, her husband, Jimmy, Delores and Ruth Ann, her children, Mrs. Charles Hurt, Mrs. Walter Schmidie, Mrs. Myron Lindquist,

Special guests at the luncheon were: Jack Delph, principal of Mark Twain School; George Thompson, principal of Horace Mann; John Thomas, principal of Whittier; P. A. New Hybrid Corn Yield Is Better Overall Average

Bill Stephens, a member of the Longwood Neighbors 4-H Club, reported on his Missouri 880 hybrid corn plot at the Soils and Crops Conference Saturday.

Missouri 880 is a new hybrid corn developed at the College of Agriculture, University of Missouri and was grown as test plots in several different sections of the state.

According to Stephens, the Missouri 880 hybrid yielded 89.6 bushels per acre. Another popular hybrid, Kansas 1639, already available to farmers in the state, was grown along side. It yielded 98.7 bushels per acre.

Stephens said that soil treatments were the same for the whole field as follows: 3 1/2 ton of limestone, 1350 pounds of 12-12-12 fertilizer.

The Missouri 880 lodged a little more than the Kansas 1639 mainly due to corn borers.

Although for Stephens, the Missouri 880 yielded a little less than Kansas 1639, the extension field crops department reports that when grown on varied conditions over the state, Missouri 880 yielded above the hybrids with which it was compared in 33 of the 49 trials. The average yield for Missouri 880 for all 49 comparisons was 85.3 bushels per acre, while average yields for all the other hybrids was 81.0 bushels.

From the reports sent in there is no doubt that Missouri 880 is a very good variety, that in a majority of instances may be expected to give superior performance, but, as with all other varieties, there will be some variation in how it performs under different conditions.

Who Is He?

Famous St. Louis Brewer Began His Career as Clerk

By State Historical Society of Missouri

Builder of a giant brewing industry and world-famous as a philanthropist, he began his career in America as a shipping clerk in a wholesale commission house on the St. Louis levee. Who was he?

1. Where was his boyhood home?
A. He was born near Mainz, Germany, in 1837, the youngest of 21 children. After attending schools in Mainz, Darmstadt, and Brussels, he worked in a Cologne mercantile house. He came to St. Louis in 1857.

2. How did he get his start in St. Louis?

A. As he ran errands along the river front for his firm, he became known for his excellent judgment of brewers' consignments. After inheriting a modest patrimony in 1859, he started his own brewery supply business which was interrupted during the Civil War by his 14 months' service as a corporal in the Union Army. In 1861 he married Lily Anheuser, whose father was operating the small Bavarian Brewery in St. Louis. He became a partner in the brewery in 1865.

3. How did he expand the brewery?

A. He obtained a loan of $50,000 from Robert A. Barnes, president of the Bank of the State of Missouri, after other bankers refused him on the grounds that he had furnished his office extravagantly, putting carpets on the floor and substituting brass spittoons for the sawdust-filled wooden boxes customarily used. He established branches of the business in the South and West. Within eight years he increased the annual output from 6,000 to 27,000 barrels of beer and by 1913 to 1,600,000 barrels. Incorporated as E. Anheuser and Company in 1873, the present name of the business was adopted when he became president after Anheuser's death in 1880.

4. What were some of the factors in his success?

A. When asked the secret of his business, he said, "I was willing to work double the time I was paid for." He was the first brewer to erect ice plants and make use of refrigerator cars and the first to manufacture bottled beer by pasteurizing. He owned one of the largest bottle factories in the world and mines and a small railroad in Illinois. He built the Manufacturers' Railway primarily to provide transportation to and from his St. Louis plant. With Carl Conrad, he developed the formula for a lighter beer than had been used in America, making it similar to the beer he found in Budweis, Bohemia. He set aside a benefit fund for his employees whom he promoted on merit.

5. What were his other interests?

A. He introduced the manufacture of Diesel engines in St. Louis. As president of the St. Louis South Side Bank, owner of hotels in Chicago and Dallas, and a large stockholder in many corporations, his interests were varied. A valuable art collection was housed in his 20-room St. Louis mansion, and he owned one of the best stables in the country. He also owned houses in California and New York and a castle in Germany named Villa Lily for his wife.

6. For what is he best remembered?

A. His business, which stands as a monument to his industrial genius, is now managed by August A. Busch, Jr., his grandson, and ranks first among American brewing industries. He is also remembered for his generous gifts to Washington University, Barnes Hospital, Harvard University, the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, the San Francisco earthquake sufferers, and many other communities and institutions. He was decorated by the German emperor and the duke of Hesse for his philanthropies to the German people. He died at Villa Lily in 1913 and his body was returned to St. Louis where services were held Oct. 25, 1913. Simultaneous funeral services were held in 35 towns where the brewery had branches. He left an estate valued at $50,000,000.

7. What was his name?
A. Adolphus Busch.

BE ON A PEDESTAL

Every man wants his woman on a pedestal—why not put yourself on one? Whether he is your husband or your sweetheart he feels you are very special and we want them to feel that way about us. However, we must earn that special position and once we arrive be mighty sure we retain it. To a man the woman of his choice is beautiful, so working backwards from that point, cleanliness within and without are the basic factors. By the same token keep your wardrobe in the same manner. Acquire a lingerie wardrobe on an even keel with your outer wardrobe and make sure it is always immaculate. If you are a wearer of dust-clothes, robes etc., keep them up to date, fresh and fitting as they should be. All these requirements take loads of time in planning as well as shopping for them. Your activities have a great deal to do of course with the type of wardrobe you need and it is up to you to shop accordingly. The woman who plans her wardrobe within her budget and always has the proper thing to wear will maintain her pedestal position rather than the one who always complains, "I haven't a thing to wear" which belittles her husband. A man's right is to be proud, and if he is proud of you he will produce more and want to show you off and in turn you both will be on a pedestal in your own rights.

When redecorating a living room or daily used family room, try using a great deal of one color. It achieves a quiet and rich effect and is also a favorable influence on dispositions. The importance of soft earth tones often described as burnt tones; copper, caramel, sandwood, in addition to beige and tan, continues to be featured in modern decorating.

Red Cross Has Demand For Pocket-Size Books

The Pettis County Chapter of Red Cross has received an appeal from the Red Cross representative at Whiteman Air Force Base for donations of used paper-back novels and books, commonly known as pocket-size books.

Such books are needed to help airmen pass their leisure hours in the lounges in their quarters. As long as they are in good taste, books of various subjects are needed. They can be the purely fictional, but tastes incline toward educational and factual matter, too.

Anyone having a collection, large or small, may contribute the books by taking them to the Red Cross chapter headquarters at 112 West Fourth.

Cosmetologists Donate Services At Buena Vista

The residents of Buena Vista soon will receive a boost in their moral when members of Sedalia's Cosmetology Association will donate free beauty care as part of their celebration of National Beauty Salon Week Feb. 9-15. Visits by local hair dressers and cosmetologists to Buena Vista is one of the highlights of National Beauty Week.

The local members will be joining thousands of their fellow members of the national organization, which sponsors the event in giving professional beauty care to the aged, orphans and inform across the nation. Since the program was first instituted eight years ago free beauty treatments have been given to over a million people in 2,000 institutions.

Mrs. Charity Broadbudd, local chairman, announced that this will be only one phase of the city's overall celebration. "However, we believe this is one of the most rewarding of all our activities," she said. "We of the beauty profession thoroughly enjoy the program of donating our services to those who could not otherwise have this care."

This is only the second year for the local group to participate. Last year they visited Bothwell Hospital, the Crippled Children's Center and several shutins.

Highleys Present Outstanding Program At Music Club Supper

Members and guests of Helen G. Steele Music Club heard Joanne and Ronald Highley in an outstanding program Wednesday evening, Feb. 5. The occasion was the annual club supper, with the husbands of members as guests.

Lovely Joanne Highley possesses a beautiful soprano voice and sang as her first number "Du bist die Ruh" by Schubert. This song displayed particularly well the fine control of this young artist.

The next group, too, "Solveig's Song" by Grieg and "Vissi D'arte" by Puccini she sang with an interesting and dramatic interpretation.

Ronald Highley, baritone, sang a Schumann number and then a Scotch number, "Edward" by Loewe. This dramatic ballad was exceptionally well done. He then sang "Sevool ballare" from "Marrage of Figaro" by Mozart, it was also enjoyed by the audience.

Probably the highlight of the evening the duet from "Pagliacci", "Nedda-Silvio", because together these two young artists were delightful, demonstrating real acting ability in addition to their singing.

As an encore they sang the duet from "Don Giovanni", "La Gi Darem La Mano" by Mozart.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. F. Yancey, life president, who welcomed the guests. Mrs. Yancey also welcomed a new member, Miss Doris Stott, who was introduced to the club by Mrs. Everett White.

Mrs. Al Miles, program chairman, presented Mrs. William Hurlbut, who announced next week's program as a stop at Italy and Germany on the world tour.

Mrs. W. B. Rich, chairman for the day, then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Highley, the husband and wife team.

Receiving hostesses were: Miss Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Edwin Danforth, Mrs. Charles Farley, Mrs. Mae Moser, Mrs. T. R. Snow, Mrs. David Routsong, Mrs. Everett White, Mrs. Charles McDaniels, Mrs. James Greene, Mrs. Winston Ream and Miss Frances Trader.

Consolidate Libraries For Better Economical Service

Three Missouri cities in 1957 joined the growing parade of municipalities which have consolidated their city libraries with their county libraries for better and more economical service.

Paxton Price, state librarian, said Boonville, Steelville and Versailles ceased operating city libraries last year in favor of consolidated city-county libraries which provide expanded service at the same tax cost.

In the case of Boonville, the city library had been an independent unit since 1923. Since the Cooper county library district was set up in 1953, there were two libraries and two library boards in the same area.

The Cooper county citizens and Boonville residents realized they had more organizational and operating machinery than was needed. The two library boards and two controlling bodies functioned separately in accomplishing the same purpose. There were overhead administrative duplications which appeared unjustified, and it became apparent that merger offered distinct advantages to the library users.

Following the merger, citizens of Boonville and Cooper county have found they have access to more books; their library has a higher income, and therefore is able to offer more services. And, although the joint library has more income than either of the previous separate libraries, taxes remain the same.

The advantages of a consolidated library, according to Price, are greater savings by larger book purchases, savings in cataloging and processing costs, and free use of greater facilities by all the citizens.

Some of the Missouri cities which have learned in recent years that it's cheaper to have a city-county library than two separate libraries for the city and county have been Tarkio, Bolivar, Parma, New Madrid, Kennett and Ash Grove.

Another method of giving better service to city and county areas, although not as effective, is a contract by which the city and county libraries agree to offer a combined service. Some cities which follow this method are Jefferson City and Cole County; Joplin and Barton county; Mexico and Audrain county; Perryville and Perry county; Kahoka and Clark county and Doniphan and Ripley county.

There are still some 37 municipal libraries in the state that have not taken advantage of this method of furnishing increased services to their users.

Dutch Teener Says They're All the Same

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "Teenagers are the same all over the world." That's the word from Romy Schneider, one of the prettiest teen-agers anywhere. She was here for her first look at Hollywood and a publicity whirl that had her reeling.

"Schedules, schedules, schedules, schedules," she moaned as she caught her breath between engagements. She is the beautiful 19-year-old star of "The Story of Vickie," a German-made film about the early years of England's Queen Victoria. That's the reason for the schedules: to plug the picture.

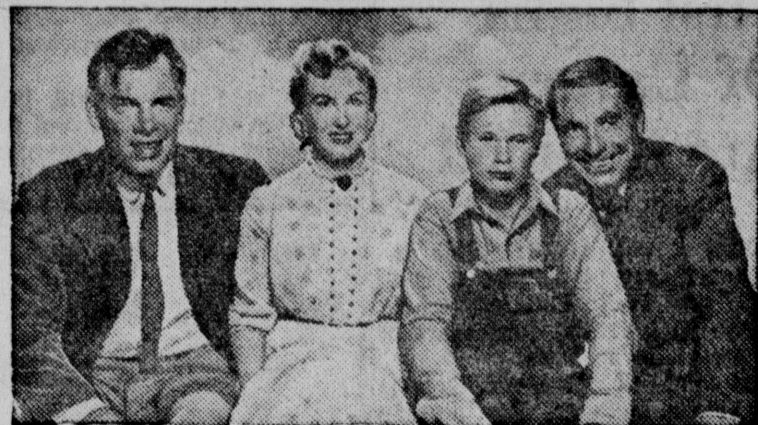

Whenever she isn't making movies all over Europe or selling them here, Romy lives in Berchtesgaden, the Bavarian resort where Hitler once had his home. (All of the Nazi's castle has been obliterated, she reported.) I asked her if German teen-agers had the same fads and fancies as those in this country.

"Certainly," said Vienna-born Romy, whose English is so-so and is sometimes aided by an interpreter. "They have the same—how do you say it?—idols whose records and pictures they collect. Elvis Presley is a big favorite among the girls over there."

"So is James Dean. He made a big hit among the teen-agers with 'East of Eden,' and 'Giant' has been very popular too. Marlon Brando is very popular, too, as well as Gregory Peck and William Holden."

Blue jeans have invaded Germany, Romy said, though she deplores girls' wearing them in public. It would appear that girls are a little slower about being allowed to date and wear makeup.

"I started dating at 14," she said, "but that was because I was in the movie business then. With most girls, they must wait until they are 17 or 18."

MISSOURI PORTRAIT . . . Here are the stars of C. V. Whitney's second major Technicolor production, "The Missouri Traveler." Lee Marvin, (left), screen newcomer Mary Hoford, Brandon de Wilde and Gary Merrill. With young de Wilde in the title role, Lee, Miss Hoford and Gary portray Mid-western characters who directly influence his life. "The Missouri Traveler" is released by Buena Vista. Starts today at the Fox.

Mario Lanza leads his quest in singing an Italian Calypso number in a party sequence of "SEVEN HILLS OF ROME." Lanza's new musical romance tells the story of a down-on-his-luck American tenor who fights his way back to singing fame in Rome. Co-feature "JULIE" stars Doris Day, Frank Lovejoy and is the story of flight from terror on her bridal night and is a masterpiece of nerve-tangling entertainment! Both features are showing today thru Tuesday at the UPTOWN THEATRE.

Large Attendance At California WSCS

Twenty-nine members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the California Methodist Church were present at the monthly meeting Monday evening. Mrs. Berl York had charge of the Quiet Hour which precedes the general meeting.

Miss Leta Robinson was in charge of the devotion for the general meeting and Mrs. Charles Butts was the candle-lighter. The business of the meeting was conducted by Mrs. William Todd, president. An announcement that the bloodmobile will be at the church on Thursday, Feb. 13, was made by the president.

After the business of the meeting the social hour followed in the church dining room. The hostesses, Mrs. S. A. Richmond, Mrs. Eunice Scott, Mrs. Robert Hogge and Mrs. Roger Connelly, wearing Japanese kimonos, served cookies and tea from a low table centered with a Japanese porcelain bowl flanked with vases of white mums. The hostesses also served snacks of smoked oysters, octopus, crab meats and baby bees, since these are delicacies of the Japanese people.

Women Seem Greatest Fans Of Westerns

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK — Are women more enthusiastic fans of television Westerns than men?

Here are a few anonymous quotations we've heard from the ladies:

"I've got to get home to see Maverick. I wouldn't miss seeing that wonderful Jim Garner for anything."

"I think the reason I like Sugarfoot is because that cute little Will Hutchins brings out the mother in me."

"I'm not sure that Western heroes are handsomer than lots of other stars, but there's something about the way they dress that fascinates me."

Well, we wouldn't try to argue a "trend" on the basis of these and several other random quotes. But it does seem true that many women enjoy viewing Western heroes for reasons similar to those that make men enjoy viewing the Marilyn Monroe type of girl.

Western TV shows go to great pains to design heroes' costumes such as no actual man on horseback ever wore west—or east—of the Pecos. Shoulders are exaggerated, hips are snaked, pockets are slashed in order that the heroes look as much as possible like Adonis in silk tights.

Western heroes are also stronger than mere mortal husbands and lovers. They're politer and kinder and brighter than any guy a dame will meet between the cradle and the grave.

The bored housewife of a potbellied husband who can't even decide which tie to put on each morning must inevitably enjoy the home screen companionship of a lean Romeo who makes incisive, difficult decisions as quickly as you can turn a TV dial.

An analysis of the products advertised on Western TV programs demonstrates—in fact, proves—that advertisers know all these things. For they are making a much stronger pitch to the female viewing audience than to the males.

The products which women normally purchase far outnumber those which men usually buy. Specifically, the male items number only four among the total of 31 advertised products on 18 "adult" Westerns.

First Signs Of Upturn Are Claimed

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower may have set a style for a new type of moon-watching teams—spotting the first signs of an upturn in business.

He thinks they'll begin showing up before summer. But already some watchers think they've spotted a sign here and there, all but lost among the more numerous statistics pointing to a deepening recession. Some of the hopeful signs:

Retail sales in January set records in a number of cities, just as Christmas sales managed to in a last-minute spurt.
Enough companies are reporting record earnings and sales to lighten the soggy mass of profit statements by many others caught in the squeeze on profit margins.
A slight pickup in new orders in the last two or three weeks is reported by the heads of the two largest steel companies.

Like many other producers of primary materials they hope that the day of living off inventories is near or at its end. Metals companies stress that for some time the end use of their products has been running well ahead of new orders for industrial commodities—a condition which is self-correcting if continued at the present rate.

Construction in January pleased the Commerce and Labor departments by setting a record for the month, largely due to record spendings for a January by public utilities and office buildings.

Although the utilities find that the industrial slump has cut back power output, they still are going ahead with expansion plans. Their earnings statements show about the same gain as usual over the previous years. Only 9 out of 75 utilities reporting so far have lower net profits after taxes than in 1956. As a whole the 75's net income is 6 per cent higher.

Wall Street thinks it's sighted a different economic moon on the horizon—renewed inflation—and has bid up stocks accordingly. The belief is based on reports that Congress is in a mood to spend even more than the additional amount the President asks.

If Congress also should cut taxes, the result would be a fair-sized Treasury deficit. This would be inflationary because the government would be pumping into the economy more money in spending than it would be taking out in taxes.

And this, Wall Street figures, would give business an inflationary psychology, renewing expansion programs—and, alas, boosting prices.

But while some point to these signs of better days returning, the majority still cautions that there's no sure indication yet that the recession has hit bottom. Some add that it may bump along there for some time before starting up again.

They note that in the 1953-54 slump the economy bumped along on bottom for about six months before the new boom started.

Sex Hormone Helps Boys Grow Taller

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

sex hormone can stimulate growth, researchers report, to help adolescent boys reach their adult height sooner, medical men say. The treatment is especially helpful for boys who feel psychologically inferior because classmates go towering above them while they remain short. In adolescence, some boys shoot up in height early while others don't experience the spurt in growth until years later. Tiny daily doses of sex hormone helped produce the growth spurt, Drs. Nancy Baylor, Gilbert S. Gordon and H. Lissner of the University of California School of Medicine and National Institute of Mental Health report in the Journal of Pediatrics of North America. X-ray films of a child's skeleton can predict fairly well how tall he is likely to grow by adulthood. The hormone treatment helped some boys reach this height sooner than they might have otherwise, the researchers said. A few boys became a few inches taller than the predicted height, a few did not reach it. Forty-seven of 51 boys taking the hormone had prompt spurts in growth. All but a few reached maximum growth in the first year of treatment. The artificial spurt was induced earlier than in a group of late-maturing boys who were not treated. The boys getting the hormone grew at least as rapidly and for a longer time than those not treated. A few boys have since become old enough to marry, and there is no evidence the treatment interfered with fertility, the report said. At least five have become fathers.
